Wedding Chimes SUDER—WOLFF

A beautiful wedding was solemnized in the Mennonite Church at Didsbury, Alberta, on June 12th, 1930, when Mr. John Suder of Winterburn, Alberta and Miss Lydia Wolff of Didsbury, Alberta, were united in the sacred bonds of matrimony in the presence of a large circle of their many friends.

Keeping step with the wedding march, played by Miss Thomson of Red Deer, Alberta, the bridal party marched to the marriage altar, which was exquisitely decorated with a rich profusion of beautiful flowers, where the bride, neatly and becomingly dressed in a beautiful sand-colored suit and carrying a lovely bouquet of white carnations, was given away by Mr. W. C. Adam, her foster-father.

The bridegroom was supported by Mr. Oscar Snyder of Castor, Alberta, while Miss Elizabeth Suder, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid.

Rev. C. J. Hallman read the Scripture Lesson and led the opening prayer, after which the Marriage Ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Traub.

After the wedding lunch was served in the parsonage, through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Hallman, the happy couple left for a short honeymoon in California, via Edmonton, Prince Rupert, Vancouver, Victoria and other intervening coast cities. Upon their return, they will be at home on Mr. Suder's farm, near Winterburn, Alberta.

The kindest wishes of their many friends will follow them as they journey through life together.

POPKIE—GOETJIN

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Westcott, on Wednesday evening, June 4th, when Ruth Almeta, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Popkie, became the bride of Mr. Herbert Goetjin, eldest son of Mr.

and Mrs. Herman Goetjen of Carstairs.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, Martha Goetjin as bridesmaid, entered the church and proceeded up the aisle. She was dressed in blue satin with a corsage of carnations.

She was followed by Esther Goetjin who acted as flowergirl. She was dressed in pink organdie and carried a basket of roses, strewn rose petals in the path of the bride. The bride then appeared on the arm of her father, who gave her away in marriage. She was gowned in white georgette and carried a bouquet of June roses. Her veil was worn coronet-fashion.

She was met at the altar by the groom, who was attended by Wilbert Popkie.

The double ring ceremony was performed under an arch of green foliage and flowers. Rev. C. J. Nissen read the nuptial vows.

After the ceremony was performed a bounteous wedding supper was served at the bride's home to about 60 guests. The bride's table was decorated with a 3 tier wedding cake. The happy couple left on a trip through the mountains. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm west of Carstairs.

TRENHOLM—BRADO

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Rev. Dr. Thos. Powell, Calgary, Saturday, June 14, when Vieta Mary, eldest daughter of Mr. Emanuel Brado became the bride of Mr. Clifford F. Trenholm.

The bride wore a becoming gown of maize crepe and was attended by her sister Miss Ina, who was attired in pink crepe. The bridegroom was supported by the brides brother Charley Brado. Mr. and Mrs. Trenholm left later for Banff for a short honeymoon.

The happy couple will be at home to their friends in the near future northeast of Didsbury, where the bridegroom is engaged in farming.

Compulsory Wheat Pool is Vetoed.

A resolution suggesting the introduction of a compulsory wheat pool in Alberta was turned down by an overwhelming majority at the meeting of pool delegates from all parts of the province, in the Palliser Hotel, on Saturday morning.

This suggestion, which is an echo of the question which was discussed with great interest in Saskatchewan some months ago, was introduced by a delegate to the meeting from Dewberry pool local, and the vote of the meeting was almost unanimous in opposition.

The policy of the directors of the board in restricting elevator building during the coming season, was endorsed by the delegates on Friday afternoon. New elevators will be built this year, it was announced, only at points along new railway lines where crop conditions warrant greater facilities for handling grain, and at a few points where the existing storage space has been found to be inadequate.

The pool is in a sound position, Mr. Melvor asserted, pointing out that the conditions prevailing during the past winter could be attributed almost solely to the reduced importation of wheat last year by a number of European countries.

Officers and members of King Hiram Masonic Lodge will visit King George Lodge in Calgary on Friday evening. Those wishing to attend are asked to communicate with Mr. C. H. Adshead.

Liberals of Red Deer constituency are announcing a convention to be held at Innisfail on Tuesday, 24th June, to select a candidate to contest the constituency in the Federal election. Hon. Chas. Stewart will address the convention.

Community Picnic To Be Held 1st July

At a meeting of business men held on Tuesday evening, it was decided to hold the Annual Community Picnic on Dominion Day at the Fair Grounds.

This year, the picnic will commence at 10-30 a.m. The sports committee are arranging a full day of sports, which will include Softball, Horse-shoe tournament, Races for children and many other attractions.

There will be lots of free ice-cream for the children and lemonade and coffee will also be provided.

Bring the whole family early and make a day of it.

Don't Mark Your Ballot with a "X"

If you mark your ballot with "X" when voting today your vote will be lost. The provincial government has seen fit to change the order of voting and has instituted the proportional representation system, which does away with the use of the "X" mark entirely.

As there are only two candidates running in the Didsbury constituency, the voter marks 1 for his first choice, and need not go further, because of only one choice.

The election campaign has now reached its final stage and today will tell the story. Both candidates held meetings in Didsbury this week. A. B. Claypool, U.F.A. candidate spoke to a crowded house on Monday night and was assisted by A. P. Garland, M.P. for Bow Valley. Mr. W. A. Austin closed his campaign with a meeting in the Opera House last night.

A Hobby Essential To Life

Every person, old or young, should have a hobby.

And why a hobby? Because a hobby means an interest beyond the mere task of making a living and because an interest is necessary to the enjoyment of life.

Life without interest would be a dull, prosaic affair. Yet there are some people who keep their noses to the grindstone day after day, year in and year out in a dull routine to provide the wherewithal to feed, clothe and shelter themselves and their dependents, without a let-up from daylight to dark. They never look around for some interest which will serve to brighten their lot and bring joy into their lives.

There are, of course some men who are fortunate enough to have found in their vocation that keen zest which an outside interest gives to others, but it has been found by age-long experience that even such happily circumstanced individuals can and do pursue their work with better results and with greater contentment and less wear and tear when, to their work, they add a hobby.

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" has been quoted so often that it has become platitudinous. Yet it is just as true today as when it was first uttered.

When the child puts his books away and closes his school desk for the day, he proceeds to enjoy himself with games and recreation in some form or another and in this manner revivifies himself for another day at scholastic tasks. Educationists have discovered that the child who plays in season brings to his school work an enjoyment which enables him in the long run to outstrip the pale faced bookworm. He has a balanced and therefore a happy existence and this reflects favorably upon his studies.

And so with the adult. But in place of flying kites or indulging in boisterous play, the grown up carries his enthusiasm into the field of some sedate, but just as stimulating amusement. It matters little whether it be collecting postage stamps, indulging in politics, plying saw and hammer or engaging in some form of academic study, so long as it is something which arouses the interest of the participant and whets his appetite for more; and so long as it is something different from the daily task.

It is this creation of interest which acts as a stimulus to the mind or a recuperative power to the physical being. It is at the same time restful and invigorating. This is why the individual with a second string to his bow, even if it be only used for recreational purposes, is more likely to make a success of life than one without it. He is able to turn again to the serious work of making a living with the hope and joy which comes with a buoyant spirit, a rested body and a clear, refreshed mentality.

It is impossible to pursue a hobby without securing these results, provided it is kept within reasonable bounds, for recreation broadens interest and interest means life. Interest with existence is life. Life without interest is mere existence.

The time to develop interest is in youth. It is too late to wait until the pains and penalties of advancing years are taking their toll and forcing retirement from active work. The individual who waits until he is obliged to slacken the traces on which he has been pulling heavily for decades before looking around for an interest will find he faces an old age of misery, for he has developed nothing to which he can turn to make his declining years worth living.

The youth, the middle aged, the old, of both sexes should have a hobby and should develop a hobby in comparatively early life.

An Accidental Discovery

Scientists Find Fish Scales Can Be Used As Fabric Coating

For hundreds of years Eve has taken her clothes from the wool of sheep and the skins of animals, but now she has gone one better—she is to wear the scales of fish.

Soon the smartest Eves will shimmer like mermaids. A firm at Berlin has at last patented a process by which fish scales can be used as a coating for various fabrics. Among many advantages is that the new material has a remarkable power of keeping out heat.

It is intended, also, to use a coating of artificial pearl on thin oilskin coats. These latest rain-proof garments will be light and completely waterproof, and when wet they will have a beautiful pearly glitter.

The discovery that fish scales could be used for this novel purpose was more or less accidental. Scientists were endeavoring to improve the process by which artificial pearls are made when they stumbled across the new idea.

After several attempts they found a method of washing, drying and grinding fish scales which produced a fine crystalline powder. This is mixed with a solution of artificial silk in collodion, and can be painted thinly over the oil skin.

Reindeer Trek Halted

Will Not Resume Journey Until Fawns Can Travel

Three thousand reindeer, being driven across "the top of the world," into Canada, on the order of the Dominion Government, have halted their long march in the Hunt and Colville River sections, until the end of the fawning season.

The herd will wait there until the new-born deer are strong enough to join the drive, which follows a route north of the Arctic Circle across Alaska to the Mackenzie River basin, of the Canadian Arctic.

What's In a Name?

Not Very Much As Proved By Book Publishers

The answer to the question, "What's in a name?" seems to be clearly defined as the result of a questionnaire recently sent out by a firm of book publishers in an endeavor to ascertain what sells books.

The 10,000 replies received to date show that only 199 purchased the books because of their titles. More than 3,450 sales were attributed to reviews; 2,460 to advertisements and so on through the recommendation of a friend, reputation of the author, bookstore display, interest in subject, gift, lecture or sermon, with the title at the bottom of the list.

THE REASON WHY

Thin Weak Children Need Baby's Own Tablets

Malnutrition or inability to derive nourishment from food, is a common trouble with little children and is entirely due to stomach and bowel weakness. Another cause of loss of flesh and sleep is worms.

To correct stomach and bowel troubles and thus banish constipation and indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers; expel worms and allay the pain which accompanies the cutting of teeth is what Baby's Own Tablets were designed for. They never fail to be of aid and can be given with safety to the youngest babe.

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Canadians Have Much To Learn About Vast Empire Being Developed In North

So vast is the Canadian heritage and so numerous are the points offering promise of great and continuous development, that it is difficult for the most assiduous of newspaper readers to keep in touch even with his own province. For more distant information he is dependent on remoter sources and therefore has all the more reason to appreciate editorial and other articles outlining what is being done in districts that are only in process of being opened to the light of day. Recently the Lethbridge Herald touched on the development of the Alberta Northland and remarked that as this is proceeding so British Columbia's great block of land east of the Rockies is coming in for a lot of attention. Speaking recently about the potentialities of this region it quoted Hon. F. P. Burden, Minister of Lands of that province, as saying that the section had one of the best bodies of coal on the continent, and according to coal authorities it was the only coal on the continent that would smelt without coking.

In close proximity, Mr. Burden said, was a great body of iron ore. In years to come, he believed, a great steel and iron industry would be developed and would create a big demand for the agricultural products of the district.

There were also other minerals, the minister said, and possible hydro-development at low cost.

The Herald repeats its view previously expressed that in the vicinity of the head waters of the Peace River, and where they cut through the backbone of the continent on their way to the Arctic, there is a veritable empire of wealth such as few Canadians even dream of. Here are to be found valuable commercial timber and pulpwood. The Groundhog coalfields in which the late Lord Rhondda was interested lie in that area. Close by there are said to be mountains of iron, while it is also stated that mines as rich as the Sullivan at Kimberley may be developed. And with it all there is, in the Peace River Canyon, water power capable of developing within a 12-mile stretch something like 1,500,000 horsepower.

While there is so much talk of a coast outlet for the Peace River country, it is well to bear in mind that the development of the mining, lumbering, pulpwood and hydro power potentialities along the Peace River head waters, is practically certain to open up a route through the northern section of British Columbia. Somewhere along the course of that route will be a railway, and situated upon it, close to the Pacific, and closer to the Orient than any other British Columbia city, will be a modern city founded upon the wealth of resources in that area.

We really know very little as yet, the Herald says truly, about the great northland which, in a few years, will be pouring its treasure into the world's markets and bringing back new wealth to Western Canada.

Increase In Plant Imports

Canada Bringing In Large Number For Parks and Gardens

Canada's appreciation for the aesthetic in parks, garden and amateur horticulture is reflected in the amazing increase which is reported in the importations of trees, shrubs, roots, perennials and bulbs. In 1919 the Plant Inspection Service of the Dominion Department of Agriculture examined 900,000 plants, etc., at ports of entry, while in 1929 the number examined was over 48,000,000. Inspection stations are maintained at Halifax, St. John, Quebec City, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Niagara Falls, Windsor, Winnipeg, Estevan and Vancouver, where imported plants are examined to ensure freedom from insect pests and plant diseases.

Prof. Burt's "The Romance of Western Canada" was published this year.

Settlers Are Keeping Ahead Of Railways

District In Northern Saskatchewan Rapidly Filling Up

Settlers are still keeping far in advance of the railway in the opening of the north.

For the past 10 or 12 years good crops have been grown in the Meadow Lake district, 100 miles north of North Battleford, and the growers have hauled their grain 60 miles to the nearest railway line.

This year the Canadian Pacific Railway is building a line through the Meadow Lake area but Meadow Lake is no longer the frontier town.

Every week hay-racks containing settlers' effects are to be seen ferrying the Beaver River, 20 miles north, making for a district on the other side which is rapidly filling up.

Department of Agriculture Is Studying Problems of The Ranching Industry

The following article was prepared at the direction of Dr. J. H. Grisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, by Mr. E. S. Archibald, director, Dominion Experimental Farms, Ottawa.

Previous to 1912, when the beef cattle industry in Canada was in a thriving condition, a very small, investment, outside of that, in cattle, was necessary to carry on the business. With the coming of the settler, and the consequent splitting up of the open range, the rancher was confined to a definite area. This change necessitated a more economical use of the range and the construction of fences, the development of watering places, and the production of winter feed. With these increased costs more attention was paid to the class of cattle raised, the percentage calf crop, and the death losses. Although the best known grazing practices were followed there was a decline in the carrying capacity of the ranges, and many areas became badly overgrazed. The result was depleted pastures, less thrifty cattle entering the winter, and sub-normal gains in weight by marketable and breeding cattle.

It was not until 1925 that a demand arose for experimental work on the range, and following a survey in 1926, by the Dominion Experimental Farms, Department of Agriculture, it was decided to conduct experiments on the short grass plains to study methods of range management, with the object of improving the carrying capacity. As the outright purchase and equipping of an experimental ranch appeared to be unwise because of the large cost involved, it was decided that it would be more economical and more useful to co-operate with some rancher who had a long experience in ranching. Gilchrist Brothers, of Medicine Hat, Alberta, offered their co-operation, which was accepted and the experiments are now being carried out on this ranch.

The main project under investigation is known as the deferred and rotation system of grazing. It is usually carried out on three pastures, depending upon the conditions under which it is practised. The system is designed to defer grazing on each pasture twice in six years to allow each pasture to mature a crop of grass. On the station, four fields, each comprising 3,740 acres, are used to determine the practicability of the scheme. The fourth field is grazed continuously and serves as a check on the other fields. In order to determine the efficiency of this system of grazing as a whole and whether or not the grass cover is improved, a thorough study of all factors affecting it is made.

An essential factor in range management is a reliable water supply. In this connection the development of natural watering facilities is being investigated. Other factors in range management being studied include the use of salt, the gains in weight by different classes of cattle, the possible limits of the grazing periods, the palatability and nutritive value of the range vegetation, the question of deterioration in the feeding value of hay kept several years in reserve, and the effect of frequent cutting on range hay production. As fencing occupies an important place in the ranch operations, the use of wood preservatives for the posts and cost of construction and maintenance are also being investigated.

In addition to the projects at the range station there are several other investigations being conducted in Alberta, Saskatchewan, and British Columbia, including an economic study of the vegetation, reseeding tests on burnt-over land, and a number of trials in the growing of forage crops for winter feeding. A beginning has been made on the study of the cost of production of range cattle in the different grazing areas, the object being, first, to learn the financial importance of different factors in the cattle business; secondly, to present a fair picture of the industry, and thirdly, to analyze the business for the purpose of learning which are the most profitable range practices to follow in the different locations.

New projects to be studied during 1930 will be the determination of the carrying capacity of the range land on the short grass plains, the winter feeding of cattle, the use of home-grown roughages and their economic value for hastening younger steers to maturity, and the value of supplemental feeding to cows on winter pasture.

When more complete information is available on summer grazing, winter feeding, and on cost of production, a fairly complete knowledge of all phases of the cattle industry will be available.

Sweden Is Prosperous

Has Small Population But Is Very Progressive

Sweden, which has a population less than that of London, is one of the most prosperous of European countries. Though only a third of the small population lives in towns, Sweden is remarkably go-ahead in all matters of art—the drama, architecture, and so on. The Town Hall of Stockholm is one of the finest modern buildings in the world. There was a time when Sweden made a great stir in the affairs of Europe, when, united in national resistance to the encroachment of her neighbors, she waged war on Germany, Russia and Poland; her standards were raised in Munich, Moscow and Warsaw. These were the days of Gustavus Adolphus, Charles XII, and eccentric Queen Christina, who dressed as a man and died a pauper in Rome. Today things are otherwise. The country has a great past and a most contented present—which is the best we would desire for any nation.

Jinks—"Have you ever lost your temper before your wife?"

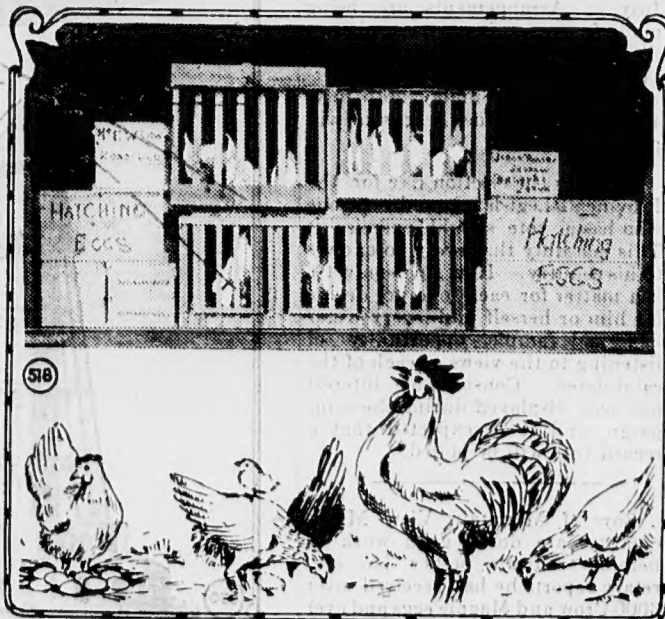

Binks—"Naw, she beats me to it every time."

"It is the master! But where is his car?"

"Did he have his car with him? We wondered why he kept asking us to shut the window as we dragged him home."—Fliegende Blaetter, Munich.

High-Class Poultry and Eggs

Believe it or not this picture represents $700 worth of high class poultry and henfruit. Not many of them, it is true, but these hens are worth about $50 apiece while the three roosters retail at the market price of $100 each. The shipment is part of a big order being filled by the Record of Production breeders in co-operation with the University of British Columbia for poultry-mep in the Hawaiian Islands, China and Japan. Each hen in the shipment has a record of more than 300 eggs per year, while the roosters also have imposing records. The shipment left Vancouver recently aboard the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Canada," for Honolulu.

HIGH MOTOR PRICE

According to figures presented by the Calgary Herald, Alberta stands third highest amongst Canadian provinces in revenue from motor traffic, being exceeded only by Ontario and Quebec. In rate of revenue per car, Alberta stands second with $43.75, with Quebec province $49.60. Manitoba is least costly of any province for the motorist, averaging only $23.00 tax revenue. The total Alberta revenue from motor cars is $4,360,082 for 1929.

The Calgary Herald says further that in spite of the high cost of motoring, Alberta is the most backward in its road policy, and it would be much more satisfactory if the motor revenue were used definitely and exclusively for roads.

A DARING ADVENTURE

There is a large red-brick House of Healing in the City of Calgary around which is a story of daring adventure in faith and optimism.

Children of all ages are to be found here, from a little morsel of humanity with hair of gold, to a youth in his late teens—all guests and patients.

Utter confidence in the power that has brought them from their humble homes to this beautiful new House of Healing is theirs. Entire trust that as they are now launched on a wonderful cure, so shall their future days and weeks be safe and secure under that beneficent power.

The citizens of Calgary are co-operating in a supreme effort to meet a tremendous challenge in connection with this beautiful place. They hope to raise $12,000 to clear the building which will then be a permanent memorial, The Red Cross Crippled Children's Hospital, and thus will be justified their daring adventure in faith in purchasing this fine property on Mt. Royal, with one and a half acres of ground.

It is hoped all lovers of children will rally to the cause of Red Cross in Calgary this week.

BANK OF MONTREAL ISSUES STRONG REPORT

The Bank of Montreal is now forwarding to shareholders a particularly satisfactory statement for the half year to April 30th.

In the face of unusual conditions, the Bank has been able to keep strong in liquid assets and cash and at the same time to show satisfactory profits. In the general statement one of the outstanding features is the increase in current loans in Canada. Both Capital and Rest are at new high levels. The Paid-up Capital now stands at $36,000,000, up from $31,548,760 a year ago, while the Rest has been increased to $38,000,000, from $35,548,760, at which level it is $2,000,000 above the Paid-up Capital.

It is likely due to the larger capital employed that the Bank has been able to report to shareholders slightly increased profits for the six months, as compared with the corresponding period last year. Profits amounted to $3,543,017, up from $3,491,651. There were also received in the six months payments of $51,459 as premiums on new stock. These amounts, when added to the balance carried forward, brought the total available for distribution up to $4,330,059. This was appropriated as follows: Dividends and interest on instalment payments on new stock $2,167,586; amount credited to Rest Account $51,459; provision for taxes Dominion Government $229,979; reservation for bank premises $600,000; leaving the balance of profit and loss to be carried forward at $1,281,033.

At the same time there is a somewhat unexpected increase in current loans and discounts in Canada and these now are reported at $335,301,194, up from $314,464,137. While a portion of this increase may be attributed to the wheat situation, it is also known that there is an increased tendency on the part of large customers to avail themselves of banking accommodation.

As was to be expected, with the change in the general credit situation throughout the world, the most important variations are in the call loan department. Call loans in Canada are down to $27,460,856 from $39,359,779, and call loans in Great Britain and the United States have been reduced to $68,028,615 from $139,974,369. At the same time, balances due to banks and banking correspondents elsewhere than in Canada—which to a great extent represented deposits temporarily placed on this side due to higher loan rates—are now down to $9,660,804 from $35,597,167.

Total deposits are reported at $688,067,752. Of this amount deposits bearing interest are $545,856,287 and deposits not bearing interest $130,418,937.

ENTRANCE TO HOME

You enter a man's home when you enter his gate—not when you cross his doorstep. His outdoor surroundings are as eloquent of him as his house. Any house, no matter how humble, which is surrounded by trees and shrubs and lawn, is inviting in its atmosphere and establishes at once a standard of pleasantness.

In remembering scenes of childhood, few people manage to recall the furnishings indoors, but everyone remembers the cherry tree by the back door, the long rows of spruce or poplar, the best trees in the apple orchard. It is these which carry a permanent, happy memory—the gracious beauty of nature.

It is within the ability of everyone to surround his home with trees. Their quick response is a source of astonishment and gratification. In a very few years little saplings are shade trees, and furnish a gracious serenity to any home, infinitely in excess of the labor they have involved.

THE ANAEMIC GIRL

Who Has Lost Her Charm and Beauty

"She seems to be losing her looks." This remark is often heard about girls who were once noted for their sparkling eyes, their rosy cheeks and their vitality. The cause is not far to seek—they have become anaemic; that accounts for the pallor and the loss of charm. The anaemic girl, if she neglects her health, may be a sufferer all her life.

Take heed, you pale, anaemic girls. Plenty of fresh air, nourishing food and rest will help you, but what you need most is good blood. Those wretched headaches, that fickle appetite and those terrible heart palpitations can only be banished if the blood is rich, red and pure.

Good blood—the kind that brings good health—is created by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The whole mission of these pills is to build rich, red health-giving blood. The pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

New Use For Wheat

Light Crop Can Be Made Profitable By Feeding To Poultry

With the present uncertainty which prevails in the wheat market the Dominion Department of Agriculture finds that farmers are paying more attention to the marketing of grain crops through live stock. Some important and interesting results have come to light, and not the least interesting is the experience of an Alberta farmer who had a light crop which he could not sell at the elevator. He had a flock of poultry and started feeding the wheat to them and marketing it in the form of eggs through the local egg pool. When the winter was over he figured up his costs and found that he had sold the wheat thus fed at an average price of $5 per bushel. Another western farmer with a modest flock of 150 birds kept his family throughout the winter on the income from the eggs, and he states that his gross income for the winter from the flock averaged $200 per month.

Plan To Encourage Community Progress

Canadian National Railway Will Give Prizes For Competition

Plans which seek to provide a substantial contribution to the encouragement of community progress and development, and the attainment of the fullest possible measure of Canadian citizenship by those rural communities in Western Canada which are of European origin, have been developed by the Canadian railways according to an announcement just made by Sir Henry Thornton from the head offices of the railway company at Montreal.

These plans initiated and developed by Dr. W. J. Black, director of the Departments of Agriculture and Colonization, of the National System, involve the carrying out of a series of competitions among such communities in the three provinces, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, to be held annually for a period of five years, for which one set of three prizes will be awarded in each province each year. These prizes will be substantial, the first being $1,000, the second $500, and the third $250, and they will be awarded on the understanding that the money be utilized in community work of some progressive nature. It is planned to have the competitions commence this year.

The Departments of Agriculture and Colonization, of the National Railways, will assume the responsibility of conducting the competitions, but hearty co-operation and support in the carrying out of the entire scheme has been offered by various departments of the provincial governments which have chiefly to do with matters of rural community progress and welfare. Leading men and women in western life also intimated that the project has their support and approval. For the judging of the competitions in each province, a committee of three outstanding citizens will be selected.

It is proposed to confine the competitions to rural municipalities, or groups of school districts within municipalities in which the population is made up of people of continental European origin, first or second generation. It is recognized that the interest which these people take in co-operating to make effective the policies of such departments of government as have to do with agriculture, education and public health, may be regarded as an index of the people to the advantages of what the Dominion provides towards influencing their status as good citizens. It has, therefore, been decided that emphasis shall be placed upon the things which these departments regard as of greatest importance. Consideration will be given to such matters as percentage of school attendance, efficiency of the school, percentage of young people attending secondary schools, colleges or universities, evidence of interest in matters relating to public health and social welfare, percentage of membership in farmers' organizations, such as the co-operative marketing pools, agricultural societies, women's institutes, etc., and evidence of general progress towards improvement of agriculture methods, throughout the particular community or area involved. Special consideration also will be given to evidence of community interest in music, arts and handicrafts. In respect to all this, the competitions will take into consideration the full calendar year and awards will be made at the end of each year. In discussing the project, Dr. Black said: "It is recognized that the people in a great many of the communities of European origin in the prairie provinces of Canada, have been showing an exceedingly fine interest in making full use of the facilities and influences which our Canadian institutions provide in agriculture, education and otherwise. It is the desire of the railway company, in undertaking to direct these competitions for a period of five years, to give encouragement to such communities as are showing a determination to make use of and emphasize to the fullest extent the best that our country provides in the development of citizenship."

Perpetual Ocean Travel

Plan Of Philadelphia Broker Has Much To Recommend It

There is something to be said for the plan of the retired Philadelphia broker who has taken up permanent residence on board an ocean liner. The marinescape is not so monotonous as a landlubber might suppose, and the accommodations on one of the larger vessels are fully equal to those available at a first-class hotel. At times, of course, the winds may roar and the waves may roll. But anyone accustomed to the behavior of the market will scarcely mind a little fluctuation now and then.

The opportunities for golf and horseback riding may be limited. But it is usually possible to organize a game of shuffleboard among the smokestacks. And a permanent passenger, particularly one trained in the brokerage business, should soon be able to estimate the ship's run with such accuracy as to win the pool every day. He ought, indeed, to make a very good thing of it. There is only one serious drawback to the plan. Has the retired Philadelphia considered having to listen for ever, and ever, to his fellow-passengers' boasting of the number of times they have crossed the Atlantic?

Greater Demand For Wool

Mills Receiving Larger Quantity Than For Some Months Past

While it is a little early in the season as yet to forecast prices for the 1930 wool clip, the Dominion Live Stock Branch reports that wool prices have sagged consistently to lower levels since January 1, and present price indications are that local buyers will be offering around eight to ten cents per pound for ungraded wools.

With prevailing price levels mill buyers show an inclination to operate on a more extensive scale and a larger volume of wool appears to be moving into the mills than for several months past. The 1930 clip of Canadian graded wools will not be available in any large quantities until the latter part of May or early in June, and it is not possible as yet to indicate what prices will be paid for these.

Persian Balm is irresistible. Fragrant as summer flowers. Cool as a mountain spring. Wonderfully invigorating. Softens and whitens the hands. Makes skin soft-textured and youthful. Used by women as a powder base and as a peerless aid to lovely complexions. Used by men as an effective hair fixative or shaving lotion. And for children, nothing soothes and protects their tender skin like the delicately cool Persian Balm.

London's Privilege

A privilege which belongs to the City of London is that its maces and its swords may be carried upright. This privilege was granted to the city in 1354, and where other corporations slope their maces and their swords, the City maces may be carried upright, and the City swords generally are so borne, in the same way as the State sword is borne before the King, as an emblem of sovereignty.

Market For Salt Increasing

The Canadian production of salt except for small exports is sold in Canada principally to the dairy, meat curing, fisheries, and chemical industries, and as table salt for household use. The market for salt in Canada is steadily increasing.

Planning New Dirigible

British R-102 Will Be Faster and Larger Than the Others

Britain shortly will build a third, giant dirigible for regular trans-Atlantic service, it became known.

The ship will be called the R-102; the others being the R-100 and R-101. It is to be larger, faster and more economical than the others.

The plans for the R-102 were said to be in the hands of the designers.

London's Moving Stairways

Will Be Speeded Up To 150 Feet a Minute

The moving stairways connected with London's famous underground railways are to be speeded up. At present this speed is 90 feet per minute. Experiments are being made with a stairway travelling at 150 feet a minute. Regular passengers who nip on and off the escalators with agility, would be glad to have them go faster, but the many who still regard them as perilous innovations will be more inclined than they are now to use the omnibuses.

Miller's Worm Powders are the medicine for children who are found suffering from the ravages of worms. They immediately alter the stomachic conditions under which the worms ten, and, at the same time, they are to assist and drive them from the system in their effect upon the digestive organs, restoring them to healthful operation and ensuring immunity from further disorders from such a cause.

As the Scots Said

The news that Weihaiwei is being relinquished by Britain to China may recall to a few old-timers Punch's cartoon of more than thirty years ago, showing two aged Scots engaged in the following dialogue: First Scot—"Ah see wa hae Weihaiwei," Second Scot—"Hae we?" First Scot—"Aye, we hae."

No Asthma Remedy Like It. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is distinctly different from other so-called remedies. Were this not so it would not have continued its great work of relief until known from ocean to ocean for its wonderful value. Kellogg's, the foremost and best of all asthma remedies, stands upon a reputation founded in the hearts of thousands who have known its benefit.

Deadly War Weapon

A new war weapon is being constructed secretly in England. This is a giant airplane torpedo, operating without a crew, its engine and course controlled by clockwork and its hull a mere receptacle for bombs. The control is set and on arriving at the appointed moment, the engine stops and the machine crashes to earth with its deadly load.

A year before there had been talk of building a main schoolhouse in the center of the town; but the plan had been abandoned because so many of the children came from farms outside the village that it would have been necessary to send a bus to collect them, and the old way seemed easier. Thus Charmian began her duties as teacher in the very room where she began her school days nineteen years before. The small, brick building was unchanged save for an impressive sign over the door which read, "Lincoln School." This replaced the battered, weatherworn board that had designated "District Four," and was a concession to the daring souls who declared that district schools had "gone out of fashion," and that Wickfield would be a laughing-stock to the entire country unless some change in its educational system was made.

"You'd think to hear 'em talk," raged Deacon Purdie, who always flared into speech at any mention of spending money, either by the town, himself, or one of his neighbors, "that we folks that went to the old schools ain't eddicated! I guess what was good enough for us is good enough for the smart Alecks that folks is raisin' these days. I caught that Eldridge boy makin' a—a disgraceful—er—gesture at me the other day!"

"If he'd caught all the people who would enjoy doing the same thing," grinned Jimmy Bennett when Grandma related this piece of gossip, they'd reach from here to the district school that he's so keen about! The darned old hypocrite!"

But this time the deacon's faction had triumphed.

"If it hadn't," said Grandma regretfully when Charmian told her that the coveted "job" was landed, "it would be a sight easier for you, child. You'll have to start the coldest part of the day to walk that distance. It makes me shiver just to think about it. I wish Ed Purdie had to walk it for you. He'd soon change his mind about whether young folks deserve a better school building!"

"Now don't begin worrying about next winter," laughed Charmian. "I dare say the exercise will do me good. I don't get half enough as it is now."

It was the first of August when Charmian was notified of her appointment. Other events followed quickly on its heels, the most astonishing of all being the Sunday morning when Deacon Purdie surprised the congregation by walking proudly into church followed by the blushing Luella (wearing the much-talked-of yellow beads) and her six little olive branches.

"I feel sort of responsible, chuckled Gam Garfield, who had stopped in after divine worship to talk the matter over with Grandma Davis. "I laid it on so thick about the cost of settling the thing by law, that I guess Edgar decided it would be cheaper to get hitched. Anyway, they went over to Eastboro yesterday afternoon and tied the knot. I haven't heard what bribe he used to make Luella change her mind, but she was smirking enough this morning to please any one."

"He might at least have given the wedding fee to Mr. Merry," complained Grandma. "What was the idea of going clear to Eastboro?"

"Search me!" replied the little lawyer, throwing out his hands in an expressive gesture. "Maybe luck. Mr. Merry performed the last two ceremonies, and the brides up and died on him, as Lizzie Baker says. Anyway, Grandma, that lets you out of any trouble. Now that he's nothing to gain by it the deacon will never let it be known that you got the better of him in a deal."

Grandma laughed as she glanced from the window.

"Here they come now!" she exclaimed excitedly. They must have gone to meeting the long way 'round, for I've been here every minute since breakfast and never laid eyes on 'em before. It looks sort of like a bridal procession, Gam, with all those children attendants. My stars! I should think even Luella Moore (and she's a fool if ever there was one), would know better than to give her babies such a stepfather. I pity the poor little things; but I suppose their mother is counting on Edgar's joining his other wives in Kingdom Come, seeing he's so much older, and then she'll come into the Purdie property. Just look at how Edgar struts! He did the same when he married Emma Dodd, but with Carrie and Eva he was sort of drooping, they not being so handsome as his first. I don't suppose you know if Luella got on a new dress, Gamaliel?"

The lawyer shook his head.

"That's beyond me; but here comes Charmian and the doctor. Perhaps they can supply the missing details."

He arose as the girl and her companion entered, and said triumphantly: "I beat you to it, Charmian! Skipped out as soon as I decently could and made a home run with the news. We've just been watching the bridal party from the window."

"Doesn't it beat all?" cried Grandma. "Did Luella have on a new dress, dearie? It looked to me like her old blue made over."

"I can't say," laughed Charmian. "I was far too thrilled watching the bridegroom to have any eyes left for Luella's raiment. The children spilled over into the Merry's pew, Grandma, but they behaved well."

"I saw their new papa give one of 'em a dirty look when she dropped a hymn book," proclaimed another arrival who proved to be Jim Bennett.

"I got that, too," declared John Carter. "I wonder if any one in church can remember the text," he added with a quiet laugh. "The center of attraction was certainly not the minister."

"Well," said the old lady, "I've no doubt that Mr. Merry understood and made allowances. Probably he had considerable trouble keeping his own mind on the sermon. Mr. Merry is real human if he is a minister. Did you know if Luella had a new dress, Jimmy? I'd admire to find out."

"Mother said it was an old one, fixed up," replied Jim glibly. "Guess Edgar sprang the ceremony on his love so suddenly (considering their recent quarrel), that she didn't have time to visit her modiste."

Charmian giggled, while the doctor reproved her by saying: "I'm shocked at your levity, Miss Davis. This is a serious matter—to Luella."

"I'll say it is!" said Jim; and added, with a glance at the lawyer, "and it's cost you a good case, Gam. I'm surprised you should let such an opportunity slip through your fingers."

"It was a sacrifice on my part," replied Gamaliel, sighing. "I did it, Jim, to save an old friend from getting into trouble."

"He's joking," nodded the old lady, "but there's a sight o' truth behind the joke. You'll get your reward in the next world, Gam, if you don't here. He's referring to a business transaction I had with the deacon, Jimmy," she explained. "I presume Charmian told you about it at the time."

"She did," grinned Jim. "My sole regret is that I wasn't behind the door with these precious eaves-droppers."

"Same here," asserted the lawyer, rising. "I'd have given ten dollars for the privilege of a front seat. Well, Grandma, I must run along or be late to dinner. All's well that ends well, and so long as Luella thinks she's adorning her beauty with some costly product of the Orient, why no harm's done. You going my way, Jim? I'll give you a lift."

"You're a dandy matchmaker, Grandma," remarked John Carter, as the callers departed and he took the chair beside her.

"Matchmaker!" echoed Grandma indignantly. "If I thought I'd had anything to do with giving those Moore children such a mean stepfather, I'd never rest easy in my grave. There goes George K. and Selina. They're waving. A nice couple if ever there was one, and successful, too. Selina can wear a silk dress every day if she wants to; but when they were married George K. was just beginning at the bank and earning less'n ten dollars a week. Now he's president, and his three-boys all went to college and are a credit to him and their mother. One of 'em writes poetry, and gets it printed in the magazines. I've always thought that if Charmian had more time she could be a writer. Once she wrote a real pretty piece about—"

"Grandma Davis!" reproved Charmian from the doorway. "I forbid you to boast about my youthful literary efforts. The subject is painful, and I haven't a doubt that the doctor wrote better ones himself in his early days."

"I can't vouch for comparisons," smiled the doctor, "but in my twelfth year I produced a masterpiece that caused a riot in the family. It began:

"The sun was setting o'er the battlements.
It shone on ladies and on gents. . . ."

"It was a ballad, dealing with love and covering six pages. My mother treasured it for years."

"Of course she did," said Grandma seriously, though her lips twitched. "Don't giggle so, Charmian. You'll hurt the doctor's feelings. Is dinner ready? I feel hungry after so much excitement; and I presume Lizzie Baker'll be over soon as she eats."

Didsbury-----5,
Crossfield-----2

Didsbury defeated Crossfield on Monday evening in a very keenly contested game, by the score of 5-2.

In the first three innings there was no score and in the next canto, each team scored one run. The score stood at 1-1 until the eighth innings, when Didsbury started on a batting spree and crossed the home-plate four times. Crossfield scored a home-run in this frame. The last innings was scoreless and the game stood 5-2 in favor of Didsbury.

This was Crossfield's second defeat of the season and Didsbury has administered both of them.

Olds--11, Didsbury--10

Olds won their first Rosebud League game of the season, when they defeated Didsbury last Wednesday evening by the score of 11-10.

Both teams went on a regular batting spree the first two innings, each scoring five runs. Wilkinson was appointed to take mound duty for Olds but he only threw one strike across the plate to three men at bat. Hubie Gooder was then called to the box and pitched very nice ball for the balance of the game. Lee Russell twirled the entire game for Didsbury.
